Wednesday, April 27, 2022

All session times listed are in Eastern Daylight Time (EDT).

7:00 am – 5:00 pm   Registration Open

7:00 am – 8:00 am   Continental Breakfast for Pre-Conference Workshop Registrants

7:30 am – 5:30 pm   Pre-Conference Workshop (10.0 CH)
010   Nursing Informatics Certification Review Course
RCD   ANIA Board Members and Leaders

This course is designed as a review to prepare for the Informatics Nursing Certification Exam offered by the American Nurses Credentialing Center.

8:00 am – 12:00 pm   Pre-Conference Workshop (3.75 CH)
020   Data Analytics and Basic Visualization Using Excel
RCD   Tanna Nelson, PhD, RN-BC, CPHIMS

Does the thought of preparing data – including conditional formatting, advanced filtering, pivot tables, and constructing graphs – make you sweat? Then this is the course for you! This workshop will review the features and functionality available in Excel for data analytics and data visualization.

8:00 am – 5:00 pm   Pre-Conference Workshops (7.5 CH)
030   Advanced Data Analytics
RCD   Charles Boicey, MS, RN-BC, CPHIMS; Jeffrey Kaden, MIT, PMP, CISSP

Are you interested in becoming more familiar with current data science methods applicable to health care? This workshop will provide you with an understanding of the three subject matter domains for data science. Additionally, you will be able to demonstrate competence in data prep, feature selection, model build, model training, model testing, model deployment, and model maintenance.

040   SQL for the Absolute Beginner and Introduction to R
RCD   Susan Fenton, PhD, RHIA

Structured query language (SQL) is the language used to extract data from databases in most health information systems today, including electronic health record systems. Part 1 of this workshop is intended for the person with no experience with databases or SQL. You will learn how to use DESCRIBE, SELECT, and WHERE to perform simple queries; describe the difference between * and wildcard characters and correctly use them; use pattern matching with LIKE, NOT LIKE, and =; use Boolean operators AND, OR, and NOT; perform basic mathematical functions with SQL; and lastly, use JOIN to combine data from two tables.

R is a free software environment for statistical computing and graphics. It compiles and runs on a wide variety of UNIX platforms, Windows, and MacOS. Part 2 of this workshop is intended for the person with no experience with R or its graphical user interface R studio. You will learn how to install R and R studio and different R packages; create a data matrix in R; load a dataset into R; explore a dataset in R; create new calculated variables and recode data; generate a frequency; conduct simple statistical tests; and utilize the R package "ggplot" to generate visualizations.

Note: Attendees must bring a Windows or Mac laptop. The software will not run on an iPad or Chromebook. Attendees must be able to install software on their laptop from either an Internet site or from a USB flash drive. If attendees are using a work-issued laptop, they must confirm with their IT department that they have permission to install DB Browser for SQLite and software programs such as R and R Studio and are able to copy a provided spreadsheet to their computer via download.

     The Role of Documentation Burden in Clinician Burnout Syndrome
IP   Emily Gesner, PhD, DNP, RN-BC

This session will discuss the results of a study to understand the relationship between documentation burden and clinician burnout syndrome in nurses working in direct patient care.

IP STEMI On Call Team: Using Smart Technology to Notify STEMI Team
Lauren Piech, DNP, MPH, RN-BC, HN-BC; Kelly Foley, MA, BSN, RN-BC; Jay Avondoglio

Unencumbered, rapid notification of specialty intervention teams is critical to the success of any emergency intervention aimed to minimize the effects of a STEMI. The use of smart technology through a chat bot offers a low-cost and uncomplicated process to implement using the expertise of nursing informatics or information technology professionals. Explore the use of the chat bot alternative as a viable solution to ameliorate outmoded communication or notification modalities and promote rapid intervention and survival from lethal cardiac events.

122 Rock Your Cyber Health - Awareness Brings New Responsibilities 📷
LS Nicole Mohiuddin, MS, BSN, RN-BC; Leta Cross-Gray, MSL, MSN, RN-BC

All nurses play a critical role in preventing disruption of clinical care by protecting patients and data against cybercrime, as well as supporting safe patient care. This session will highlight the cybersecurity concerns and gaps related to the devices and technology currently utilized in clinical practice. Current cyber laws, regulations, and case studies will be shared from a nurse informaticist specializing in cyber law and cybersecurity risk mitigation, and data governance strategies will be examined.

4:15 pm – 5:15 pm   Concurrent Sessions (1.0 CH)

131 Decrease the Burden: Flowsheet Redesign to Decrease Time in Documentation 📷
IP Mary Lindsay, DNP, RN, NEA-BC, CCRN-K; Kay Lytle, DNP, RN-BC, NEA-BC, CPHIMS, FHIMSS

Key components and outcomes of a flowsheet documentation redesign process that decreased duplication, redundancy, and non-value-added tasks will be discussed.

132 Upgrade Your Informatics Brand with LinkedIn
RCD Mary Regina Wysocki, MS, RN-BC, CPHIMS, SHIMSS

This presentation will provide attendees with best practices and tips to rock out their personal and ANIA chapter informatics brand using LinkedIn.

201   Accelerating Nursing, Transforming Healthcare 🎥
Lynda Benton

COVID-19 changed the practice and delivery of health care in fundamental ways, with a significant impact on the nursing profession. As nurses answered the call for crucial healthcare leadership, long-standing barriers were broken down, policies shifted, and innovative new approaches were developed. While our healthcare system has been ripe for change, the pandemic exposed areas of opportunity and opened a door to new thinking that we need to examine and continue to push forward. In this session, we will share learnings and inspirational exemplars from quantitative ($n = 4,000$) and qualitative research, fielded during the height of the pandemic, to understand the factors that optimized nurses' impact on improving human health. Then, chart a path forward to enable this momentum far into the future – preparing the nursing profession to lead and help meet the evolving needs of our healthcare system.

9:45 am – 10:45 am   Exhibits Open/Coffee Break

9:45 am – 10:45 am   Virtual Poster Viewing

10:45 am – 11:45 am   Concurrent Sessions (1.0 CH)

211   Nursing Informatics' Role in Establishing Strong Healthcare IT Governance 🎥

LS   Margaret Swanson, MS, RN-BC; Kathie Crane, MS, RN

In this session, the presenters will guide the participants through high-level assessment of the current state and opportunities within their healthcare IT governance structure. The approach and considerations for developing and facilitating a sound IT governance design structure, methodology, process, and implementation from a project to the organizational level will be discussed.

212   Re-Imagining Health: A Digital Incubator for Nurses, Students, and Faculty

IP   Lisa Meyer, MSN, RN, NE-BC; Elizabeth Jordan, DNSc, RNC, FAAN

This presentation will describe the development and implementation of the "Health Re-Imagined: Digital Incubator" and how it assists nurses, students, and faculty to create efficient workflow orchestration and achieve optimal health outcomes.

11:45 am – 1:00 pm   Lunch on Your Own

1:00 pm – 2:00 pm   Concurrent Sessions (1.0 CH)

221   In-Brief Concurrent Sessions

Constructing Opportunity: The Evolution of the Role of Nursing Informatics

RCD   Kathleen McDonough, MSN, RN-BC, CPHIMS; Julie Koscuiszka, BSN, RN-BC

This presentation will use the construction of a state-of-the-art, 372-bed hospital on a brand new campus as an example to provide insight into how the distinctive skill set of nursing informatics can serve as a foundation for other career and development opportunities.

Consulting as a Nursing Informatics Career Path: Considerations for Success

RCD   Margaret Swanson, MS, RN-BC; Kathie Crane, MS, RN

This session will explore the opportunities available within healthcare IT for nursing informaticists as a consultant. The evolution of the types of roles and organizations that are available for informatics nurses as a contracted resource, as well as the background and experience required for success and gained along this career path, will be addressed. The experience of how working as a contracted resource can be different from roles as a traditional employee and what informatics nurses should be prepared for before making a transition to consulting will be discussed.

222   Using A3 Thinking to Rock the Telehealth Experience 📷
QI/PO Elizabeth Weeks, BSN, RN-BC, CMSRN; Erin Bullis, BSN, RN

This session will describe what A3 thinking is, the use of A3 thinking to improve a challenging process, and strategies to improve the telehealth experience.

2:15 pm – 3:15 pm   Concurrent Sessions (1.0 CH)
231   In-Brief Concurrent Sessions
        Redefining Clinical Staff EMR Training Formats and Educational Support Strategies in a Post-COVID-19 Pandemic World: The New Normal
IMPR Inga Gerard, MSHI, BSN, RN-BC; Kimberly Velez, MSN, RN

This presentation will focus on how one organization transitioned in-person EHR training into virtual sessions and added a layer of remote clinical documentation support post-onboarding.

        Leveraging Technology to Increase Efficiency in Blood Transfusions
IMPR Ashley Hole, MSN, RN, FNP-BC, CPON; Sean Vickerie, MS, BB(ASCP); Justin McGrade, BA; Terrence Newton, MS

We will discuss our organization's change management process through the use of an electronic communication order to decrease phone calls into the blood bank.

232   Chapter Panel: How Do We Get Started, Ongoing Engagement, Best Practices 📷
LS Facilitators: Andrew Awoniyi, ND, RN-BC; Kathleen Morouse, DNP, RN-BC, CCRN-K
    Panel: Loraine Hartman, MS, RN-BC; Janis Watts, DNP, NE-BC; Kathleen Klimpel, PhD, CNS; Kathryn Taylor, MSN, RN-BC

ANIA now has large chapters continuing to grow! Interested in joining or thinking about starting a new chapter? This panel presentation will explore what you need to know about the process, from chapter formation to helping it grow. Discussion will also include best practices from established chapters to help serve as a guide.

3:15 pm – 3:30 pm   Stretch Break

3:30 pm – 5:00 pm   Closing Remarks/Endnote Address (1.25 CH)
240   Past, Present, and Future of Impact of Nurse-Led Innovation 📷

OD01 Clinical Translational Science Award (CTSA): Developing a Community Engagement Evaluation Program Using REDCap
QI/PO Angela Ross, DNP, MPH, PMP, PHCNS-BC; Luz Macias-Melendez, MSW; Pablo Sanchez, BBA
This session will share how the researchers were able to use community engagement with academic institutions to create relationships that support assessments, research, and the adoption of evidence-based approaches.

OD02 Leveraging Longitudinal Care Plans and Technology to Enhance Care Coordination
IMPR Donna Mayo, MSN, RN; Karen Lane, BS, RRT, CPHIMS
The session will focus on understanding the consequences of a fragmented healthcare system, the impact of social determinates of health (SDOH) and health equity on health outcomes, the key elements necessary for effective care coordination, the importance of team-based care, and ways in which technology enables the application of evidence-based practice and improves care coordination.

OD03 Improving Experience for Patients and Staff – Success in Digital Engagement
IMPR Clarinda Brewer, RN-BC; Jessica LeMire, RN-BC
This presentation will address how implementing innovative digital tools can create sustainable, impactful provider-to-patient communication and patient education programs and reduce staff workload.

OD04 Critical Value/Clinician Contact Driving Outcomes: A Systematic Approach to Optimizing EHR Reporting
QI/PO Deborah Chasco, DNP, CCRN, APRN, CNS
This session will address how electronic healthcare automation of critical value notification improves clinical assessment, communication, and patient care outcomes.

OD05 Digital Health Regulatory Requirements: Nursing Informatics Impacting Change
IMPR Deborah Chasco, DNP, CCRN, APRN, CNS
This session will outline advanced analytics, artificial intelligence, the cloud, cybersecurity, interoperability, medical device data system (MDDS), mobile medical app (MMA), wireless and novel digital health, and the role nursing informatics plays in keeping abreast of ever-changing regulatory requirements.

OD06 Bedside to Nurse Executive: A Path for Success
QI/PO Melissa Cole, MSN, APRN, ANP-BC, CENP; Lisa Meyer, MSN, RN, NE-BC
This session will inform pathways to influence healthcare environments and transform outcomes. Participants will be empowered to clarify their own pathways to transformation and gain insight into how to have influence at all levels of the organization. The presentation will provide real-life examples of how to design and influence stakeholders.

OD07 Ensuring Competent Nurses Are Working in Technology and Data Rich Environments
IMPR Marisa Wilson, DNSc, MHSc, RN-BC, CPHIMS, FAMIA, FIAHSI, FAAN
This session will describe the current forces that are driving change in informatics competency expectations for all nurses and informatics nurse specialists. The complex interrelationships between external forces and societal needs shape the expectations of healthcare professionals and competency, standards, accreditation, licensure, and certification will be explored.

OD08 A Unique Nurse Identifier: Demonstrating Nursing Value
IP Whende Carroll, MSN, RN-BC, FHIMSS; Joyce Sensmeier, MS, RN-BC, FHIMSS, FAAN

Nursing's contribution to the health and care of individuals and communities is difficult to measure and often invisible, due in part to the absence of a unique identifier for nurses. This session will describe why a unique nurse identifier is essential, outlining potential benefits and implications for its adoption.

OD09 Thriving Versus Surviving in Clinical Informatics: Shifting to a Remote Work Setting
LS Charla Johnson, DNP, RN-BC, ONC; Sheralyn Long, MHI, BSN, RN

This session will explore the effect of telework on the perceptions of clinical information systems (CIS) team members related to social connections, supervisor connections, work connections on thriving vs. surviving, and employee satisfaction as compared to the traditional work environment.

OD10 Current Trends in HIT Implementation: Management of Clinical Care and Workflow
QI/PO Lisa Anne Bove, DNP, RN-BC; Alicia Bremer, MSN, APRN-PCNS-BC, RN-BC, CPN; Anna Fernando, MSN, RN-BC; Brooke Gaskins, MS, BA, RN; Eun-Shim Nahm, PhD, RN, FAAN; Sharon Rochon, MSN, BSN, RN, PMP

The healthcare environment has entered the post-pandemic era where efficient management of clinical care and workflow is even more critical as the nation undergoes nursing workforce shortage and high turnover rates. This session provides selected examples of current health information systems that can help the nursing workforce improve their care provision.

Opening Keynote Address
Thursday, April 28, 2022
Harnessing the Power of Data to Advance Human Health and Clinical Care
Maryam Zaringhalam, PhD

Dr. Maryam Zaringhalam is the data science and open science officer in the National Library of Medicine's Office of Strategic Initiatives. In this role, she works to enhance capacity in the biomedical research community for data science and open science, as well as promote diversity, equity, and inclusion among the research work force. Prior to her current position, she was an AAAS Science and Technology Policy Fellow at the National Library of Medicine from 2017 to 2019. She received her PhD in molecular biology from Rockefeller University in 2017. She is a long-time science communicator and advocate for diversity, equity, and inclusion in the sciences, working as a senior producer for the science-inspired storytelling series The Story Collider.

Opening Session
Friday, April 29, 2022
Accelerating Nursing, Transforming Healthcare
Lynda Benton

Lynda Benton, Senior Director of Global Community Impact Strategic Initiatives at Johnson & Johnson, is responsible for leading Johnson & Johnson Nursing, a broadly based platform grounded in the company's 125-year commitment to the nursing profession and Credo. Johnson & Johnson Nursing is focused on advocating for, elevating, and empowering nurses as innovative leaders who improve patient outcomes, strengthen health systems, and change human health for the better. She enjoys every aspect of engaging with the nursing profession. She firmly believes that to move health care forward, nurses need to be championed and supported for their impact, feel empowered to raise their voices and implement their ideas, and be valued as transformative leaders helping to shape the future of health care. She has been with Johnson & Johnson for over 30 years, with extensive leadership experience in the pharmaceutical sector, and with Johnson & Johnson Global Corporate Affairs, where she has led strategic initiatives including 2014 FIFA World Cup sponsorship, Global Citizen sponsorship, and now Johnson & Johnson Nursing.

Closing Endnote Address
Friday, April 29, 2022
Past, Present, and Future of Impact of Nurse-Led Innovation
Rebecca Love, MSN, BS, RN, FIEL

Rebecca Love is an experienced nurse executive and nurse entrepreneur. She was the first nurse featured on Ted.com and was part of the inaugural nursing panel featured at SXSW 2018. Love was the first director of nurse innovation and entrepreneurship at Northeastern School of Nursing, where she founded the Nurse Hackathon. In early 2019, she founded and was president of SON-SIEL: The Society of Nurse Scientists, Innovators, Entrepreneurs, and Leaders, a non-profit recognized by the United Nations as an affiliate member. Love founded HireNurses.com, where she served as the managing director of U.S. markets until its acquisition in 2019. Currently, she serves as the chief clinical officer of IntelyCare, Inc. Love is passionate about empowering nurses and creating communities to help nurses innovate, create, and collaborate to start businesses and inventions to transform healthcare. Love holds an MS degree in nursing from Northeastern University and a BA degree in international relations/Spanish from Boston University. She sits on the board of NextGen Ventures, Health Science Entrepreneurs at Northeastern University, and the Host Committee for the Massachusetts ACLU.

NOTE: General sessions are attended by all registered attendees and not listed for selection.

Cancellations and Substitutions must be received in writing. For cancellations received by April 7, 2022, a $75 administrative fee will be assessed, and the balance will be remitted to the original form of payment. No refunds will be made thereafter. Membership fee is nonrefundable/non-transferable. If substitute is not an ANIA member, additional fees may apply. ANIA reserves the right to cancel programs because of emergencies, labor strikes, acts of God, and insufficient registration or sponsorship.
